Promotion and Pre-Tenure Review Guidelines: Instructor to Assistant Professor Rank

A. Timing for Promotion On Track/Pre-Tenure Reviews

- Faculty will have a Required On Track/Pre-Tenure Review for promotion during the third year of employment as a full-time Instructor in the College.
- Faculty will have a Required Promotion Review during the sixth year of employment as a full-time Instructor in the College.

Faculty may initiate an Elective Promotion Review upon entering eligibility within the College of Nursing and Health Sciences (completion of the terminal degree and three years as a full- time,

D. For Post-Tenure Review follow the guidelines as described in the next Section (for Assistant and Associate Professors).

Promotion and Tenure Review Guidelines: Assistant to Associate Professor Rank

A. Promotion Criteria

Notable sustained performance in teaching, scholarship, and service that demonstrates a high level of accomplishments in scholarly activities and research are required for promotion to Associate Professor. Meritorious achievement should be evident in professional growth and development and service which includes active involvement in leadership roles internal and external to the institution and region. Collegial relationships should be developed that are professional and productive. The College of Nursing and Health Science guidelines for promotion eligibility expect faculty to have served requirements for meeting the criteria on which promotion is awarded. Years granted toward tenure do not count toward promotion.

While the maximum point value allowed for Criterion I: Teaching (50 points) is fixed, candidates

By the last Monday in November, the Dean shall review applications, prepare statements regarding the candidates' qualifications for promotion, and forward the dossiers to Academic Affairs. Candidates shall organize and the Dean shall ensure that dossiers are prepared uniformly as specified in the University Tenure and Promotion document:

1. Coversheet from Academic Affairs for the Recommendation for Promotion
2. Candidate's current curriculum vitae
3. College of Nursing and Health Sciences Promotion and Tenure Policies and Procedures
4. Annual faculty evaluations for each year under review
5. CONHS promotion and tenure committee's recommendation
6. College of Nursing and Health Sciences Dean's recommendation
7. College of Nursing and Health Sciences Application for Promotion and Tenure
8. Table summarizing student opinions of instruction (SOIs) from the period under review
9. Copy of VSU's uniform SOI instrument and printouts of all SOIs from the period under review with summary information about the contents of the student narrative comments
10. Peer evaluations of teaching as defined by CONHS policies.
11. Other optional supporting documentation of teaching, e.g., evidence of student learning, course syllabi, evidence of course or curriculum development activities, evidence of innovative instruction
12. Copies of scholarly publications and papers
13. Other optional supporting documentation of professional growth and development, e.g., letters

Four types of review are described in the following sections: The Pre-Tenure Review, the Promotion Review, the Tenure Review, and the Post-Tenure Review.

THE PRE-TENURE REVIEW

The purpose of the Pre-Tenure Review is to assist the faculty member in determining whether they are making appropriate progress toward promotion or tenure requirements. This review occurs before a faculty member becomes eligible for tenure or promotion. A favorable Pre-Tenure Review at all levels of the review process implies that a faculty member is making satisfactory progress toward promotion and/or tenure, but it does not result in a tenure or promotion decision. Rather, the review provides feedback to the faculty member about performance strengths and weaknesses, and this review provides additional information to the Dean of the College of Nursing and Health Sciences for making a decision regarding the performance of the faculty member.

At Valdosta State University, any years granted towards tenure, negotiated at the time of appointment, must be specified in the formal letter of offer. These years do not count towards promotion. Faculty granted years towards tenure may list accomplishments in teaching, professional growth and development, and service from previous years, but faculty must demonstrate new accomplishments in each area.

Faculty must serve a minimum of five years in tenure-track positions to be eligible for tenure; however, they may apply for tenure during their fifth year of full-time, tenure-track service. A candidate with no years granted towards tenure cannot apply for tenure before the fifth year.

The general expectation in the College of Nursing and Health Sciences is that the successful candidate for tenure will achieve the points and record for promotion to associate professor. In rare cases, a candidate may achieve tenure but not promotion to associate professor. A candidate must have a minimum of 15 points in Category II.A.1 of Professional Growth and Development to be considered for tenure.

The BoR Policy Manual (8.3.7.3) describes the minimum criteria for tenure:

1. Excellence and effectiveness in teaching and instruction;
 2. Academic achievement, as appropriate to the mission
 3. Outstanding service to the institution, profession, or community
 4. Professional growth and development
- (BoR Policy Manual)

Noteworthy achievement is required in at least two of the above categories, but is not required in all four categories. A written recommendation should be submitted by the Head of the department concerned, setting forth the reasons for tenure. The

If one of the dates listed below falls on a weekend, the following Monday shall be the applicable due date. By April 30 the Dean will notify each faculty member of eligibility for tenure. All faculty members who wish to be considered shall submit their applications to the FP&T chair by the fourth
